DISCLAIMER

We remind you that, by awarding a KYC badge to a project it does not in any way mean that we as Black Shark Analytics recommend this project for investment. Please always triple check before investing. The KYC service only proves that the people behind a project may be who they say they are, and there will never be one hundred percent certainty of this. A KYC it does not guarantee the legitimacy or security of any project or company.

Actions taken by a project team after the KYC verification is issued, are in no way related to Black Shark Analytics. Never invest money in speculative investments that you cannot lose. Black Shark Analytics is not responsible for investment losses in KYC verified projects.

Our service includes verifying, registering and storing sensitive data of the people of a project in a safe and impartial way. If the investors of a project that has acquired our KYC services have a well-founded suspicion of a possible scam, they will be provided with the nationality of the project team. If any competent authority formally requests the data of the people involved in a KYC, in accordance with our legal part, a portfolio will be delivered with the details of the service and those involved.
